President's Welcome

2023 North Central Weed Science Society Meeting

Welcome to the 78th annual meeting of the North Central Weed Science Society (NCWSS) at the Hyatt Regency in downtown Minneapolis, MN. We have something for everyone at the meeting this year. You can't thank me for putting together an excellent program, but you can thank Dawn Refsell, President Elect and Program Chair for the 2023 annual meeting. You can also thank Eric Spandl and his dedicated members of the Local Arrangement Committee for setting up an engaging and effectively organized program. As is true for most organizations, the behind-the-scenes efforts of these individuals laid the foundation for a successful meeting. Please take a moment when you see Dawn, Eric or LAC members to thank them for their service.

Two symposia are planned for the meeting. On Wednesday, the first symposium is entitled "Field to Film: Beginners Guide to Video Editing and Production". Claudia Bland and the Graduate Student Association have organized this. If you have ever wondered how to create short videos and use them for instructional purposes, this symposium is for you. A second symposium that day is entitled "UAV Pesticide Applications", which was organized by David Simpson. The title alone indicates the topic of this timely symposium. New this year will be a workshop entitled "Mentoring and Networking-Up for Graduate Students". This will be offered on Wednesday afternoon.

In addition to the science, there are a number of other engaging activities. This starts with the WinField United Tour for students which takes place on Monday afternoon. Monday evening is the traditional Student Mixer sponsored by BASF, although all society members are invited to take part. The Women in Weed Science group will be meeting Tuesday morning (see program for details). At noon on Tuesday is the Graduate Student Luncheon sponsored by Corteva. This is a great time to meet other students who someday may be academia, industry, or government colleagues. On Wednesday is the Society Awards Luncheon where we recognize the Distinguished Achievement Award and Fellow Award winners. On Wednesday evening is the Society Social and Contest Awards where we recognize all graduate student contest award winners (although ALL participants are winners). Thursday morning is the inaugural "Society Breakfast", which replaces the "Industry Breakfast". All students are invited to participate at no cost to you, thanks to Syngenta. There will be a guest speaker and the "What's New in Industry" section.

The first NCWSS meeting I attended was as a fledgling graduate student from MSU in 1984. The meeting was in Indianapolis at the Hyatt Regency. I can remember thinking how crazy it was to wear a suit and tie for 2.5 days and stand shoulder to shoulder in a room packed to hear Marshall McGlamery speak. This year we celebrate 78 years as a society, which was built on the volunteer efforts of many that came before me. Our society still depends on volunteers. There are many opportunities to join a committee. Please strongly consider this, as you have an opportunity to impact our society for years to come. If you want to serve on a committee, speak to me or Dawn Refsell and we can accommodate you. Alternatively, you can participate by attending a committee meeting, and the program book or app can provide details.

To Sustaining Members of the NCWSS I say a sincere "thanks" for your generous support. This helps to cover the costs of this meeting. To the paper and poster judges, I salute your sacrifices and efforts to evaluate student papers, posters, and videos.

It has been a pleasure serving as your NCWSS President. I walk in the footsteps of many past presidents who laid the foundation of this society. I leave you with the saying on a poster that hangs in my office, and previously hung in my bedroom as a kid starting at 10 years of age:

The future belongs to those who are willing to work for it.

Your efforts on behalf of the NCWSS at this meeting and going forward can shape our society and impact weed science.

Reid Smeda, President
